

WESTERLY

After hearing the testimony in the cases of seven Westerners for breaking and entering a freight car in Bradford, on the night of March 9, United States Commissioner Mat- teson, ordered the accused held for the action of the federal grand jury. The defendants are: Braggio Gradi- line, 4 Pierce street; James Gradi- line, 30 Oak street; Joseph Murano and James Assinake, of 74 Oak street; Francis Glajo, 137 Tower street; Pasquale Teranova and Ma- riana Stratacci, both of 48 Oak street. Teranova, who was a truck walker in the employ of the railroad company, was required to furnish bail of $5000, and the others $500 each. Surety in the bonds of the seven de- fendants, was furnished by their re- latives and friends.

A new motor vehicle act presented in the Rhode Island house of rep- resentatives, and referred to the ju- diciary committee, carries with it marked increases to the owners of motor vehicles.

Fifty cents per horse-power, or fraction thereof, for gasoline and steam automobiles under 30 horse- power, and 75 cents per horse-power, and 75 cents per horse-power, for motor cycles from 1 to 25 horse- power, in excess of 30 horse- power, with minimum fee of $10, would be the new registration rate, as against the present fee of $5 for cars under 15 horse-power, $10, between 15 and 20 horse-power, $15, between 20 and 40 horse-power, and $25 for over 40 horse-power.

The proposed law also raises the fee for motor cycles from $5 to $10, and makes a flat fee of $10 for every electric automobile.

The registration fee for a motor truck, whose carrying capacity is more than four tons, but not more than five, would be jumped from $20 to $75, while for more than five tons, the new fee would be $75 plus $50 per ton, or fraction thereof, in excess of five tons.

Increases in registration fees for motor trucks under the proposed law are shown as follows: One ton or less, from $17 to $12; two tons, from $18 to $20; two and a half tons, $18 to $25; three to four tons, $18 to $25; three to four tons, $18 to $25.

The fee for every license or renewal thereof to operate a motor vehicle would be doubled, from $1 to $2, and a fee of $1 would be charged for every duplicate license issued.

Fees on manufacturers' and dealers' cars, under the law, are raised from $25 to $30, and the number of cars is decreased from five to three, with additional fee of $10 for every automobile or truck in excess of three, which would double the present fee of $5. On motorcycles this fee would be increased from $10 to $15.

The fee for a trailer permit would be $5 per ton in excess thereof, of the gross weight of the trailer and its carrying capacity. The present fee for more than 10 tons is $20, five to 15 tons, $10, and two to five tons, $10. Without a special permit, having first been secured from the state board of public roads, the new law would limit loads to be carried over any public highway or bridge to 25,000 pounds, including weight of truck, width of 8 1/2 inches and height of 10 feet. Restrictions are also imposed regarding weight resting on each wheel and width of tires.

Use of more than two trailers on the public highway would be pro- hibited, and the combined length shall not exceed 60 feet, the law pro- vides. A permit to use trailers would also have to be secured. In addition to requiring a special cou- pling attachment which allows deviation of not more than six inches hori- zontally in either direction of the trailer, the law also provides that trailers shall be equipped with safety chain attachment, capable of bearing the load, if the coupling should break.

To facilitate the administration of the $100 fine, or $50 day in jail, for both, for violations of the provisions.

to well known pools, so that they may have an extra good spring to show on April 1. Close watch for these lawbreakers will be kept this year.

Mrs. E. A. Tourtelotte with her children, Alice and Frank, and Mrs. Claude White of Allen Hill have been guests of their sister, Mrs. Joseph Smith of Moosup.

Henri I. Baer, owner of the Palisade kennels at East Killingly and of other kennels on the Merrick road, Rosedale, L. I., was here shipping dogs Thurs- day, Mr. Baer has 80 pups.

Danielson people who know Mr. Baer and his dogs will have the pleasure of seeing them in motion pictures. Mr. Baer has been sought out by representatives of prominent studios and has agreed with them to use twenty dogs in making scenes at one of the beautiful country estates on Long Island, during the coming month.

The story to be worked out for the films with the aid of the dogs is for what is known as a detective picture. Mr. Baer will employ his finest and most highly trained and in- telligent dogs in the picture, which will be shown here eventually.

The dogs will be engaged for about 20 days in their motion picture work, in which they will be featured along with stars of the screen.

Section men employed by the New Haven road have their work cut out for them in getting the roadbed back into good condition through all this territory, following the most severe winter weather in many years.

At places the road bed is so uneven that trains must slow down to go over the bumps without a jar. Not much to- ward remedying the present condition can be done until the frost has dis- appeared and the ground has settled.

Another big truck bound from New Bedford to Danielson broke through the state highway just above Attawapung just after noon on Thurs- day and almost blocked the high- way until another truck came along and hauled out the stalled vehicle, which was loaded with beams.

The big hill leading from the flat place to the Congregational church at South Killingly is now in about the worst condition it has been in years. Deep mud and ruts are proving troublesome to the persons who must use this route every day.

Many Killingly High school students crowded into the town hall Thursday evening to see the Putnam and Tour- telotte high school teams contest for the championship of the Quinebaug Valley Basketball league.

since day, after today's short calendar session. A number of cases that counsel were anxious to dispose of at this session also will go over until May, as time to hear them could not be found.

Heavy motor trucks that are oper- ating over the route between Putnam and Danielson, are playing havoc with its way out of the ground. In a few places these ponderous vehicles have broken through the road surface and in others have cut it deep with ruts.

State roadmen are doing their best to keep the highway in good condition during this trying time and their ef- forts make travel reasonably easy.

Rumors persist that one of the larg- est tire manufacturing concerns in the country is continuing its negotia- tions for the purchase of one or more of Putnam's cotton mills, which, if acquired, will be re-equipped as tire fabric producing concerns. These ne- gotiations have been talked of since early in the winter, and rumors per- taining to them were experiencing a revival Thursday.

Members of the chamber of com- merce are anxious for a large attend- ance at an open meeting scheduled to be held this (Friday) evening in Odd Fellows hall for the purpose of dis- cussing ways and means of bring- ing
